

Hector Sandoval, CTP
Managing Director, Receivables Group Manager
MUFG Union Bank Transaction Banking

Hector Sandoval has more than 18 years of experience in the financial services and payments industry. Mr. Sandoval's work has focused on product management and product development of emerging payment systems and services. Currently, Mr. Sandoval is responsible for developing the strategic direction for the receivables product group at MUFG Union Bank. In addition, he manages the revenue and profitability of the bank's receivables product offerings which include paper and image check deposit products, national lockbox, national cash vault, merchant services, consumer to business payment solutions, consolidated receivables information systems, and homeowners association banking services.